1. Claims 1, 2 and 4-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over JP 2000-63433 for the same reasons as set forth in paragraph 1 of the last office action filed 10-02-06. Applicants' argument that the solvents in JP'433 are removed in their disclosed coated elements is true but unconvincing since the instant claims are directed to compositions and not coated elements. The coating compositions of JP'433 contain solvents within the formula Q-OH of the instant claims which would inherently react with the resist polymers if coated so as to not completely remove the solvents. The intended use of the coating compositions of the instant claims does not materially distinguish the compositions over the coating compositions of JP'433 with the butyl alcohol or cyclohexanol solvents.

2. Claims 3, 31 and 32 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The obvious type double patenting rejection is withdrawn since the claimed invention in the patent is directed to crosslinking using multiple OH groups as disclosed in the specification of the patent while the instant claims now exclude crosslinking using the Q-OH compounds.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
